Encyclopaedia of Islam^{THREE}

Edited by Gudrun Krämer, Denis Matringe, John Nawas, Everett Rowson and Kate Fleet

The Third Edition of Brill's Encyclopaedia of Islam is an entirely new work, with new articles reflecting the great diversity of current scholarship. It appears in four substantial segments each year, both online and in print. The new scope includes comprehensive coverage of Islam in the twentieth century and of Muslim minorities all over the world.

Encyclopaedia of Islam

Second Edition

Edited by P. Bearman, Th. Bianquis, C.E. Bosworth, E. van Donzel and W.P. Heinrichs

The Encyclopaedia of Islam (Second Edition) sets out the present state of our knowledge of the Islamic World. It is a unique and invaluable reference tool, an essential key to understanding the world of Islam, and the authoritative source not only for the religion, but also for the believers and the countries in which they live.

"The Encyclopaedia of Islam Online is invaluable for researchers at all levels with an interest in Islam, Muslim society, or the history and culture of the Middle East. Scholars value the in-depth articles, complete bibliographies, and easy-to-use interface. I refer library users to it often." - Daniel C. Mack, Tombros Librarian for Classics and Ancient Mediterranean Studies, Head, George and Sherry Middlemas Arts and Humanities Library Humanities Librarian for Ancient History, Jewish Studies, and Religious Studies The Pennsylvania State University Libraries.

"The Encyclopaedia of Islam has always been the place to begin research on any topic in the field of medieval Islamic studies. Sometimes, if you just need a quick overview or are trying to identify a person or place, it's all you need. Having the EI online, easily searchable and at your fingertips wherever you are, is an incredibly useful resource." - Marlis J. Saleh, Bibliographer for Middle East Studies, University of Chicago Library.
